Ever been to prison? Most people reading this will have no clue about life in our state and local prisons.

The members of the US Supreme Court have certainly never been in prison, otherwise they'd realize how naive they are in "ordering" desegregation. Hello? The whole POINT is to segregate these guys!

They don't want to be inter-mixed, least of all the Hispanic gang members who KNOW without a shadow of a doubt that the GRINGOS that put them behind bars, will themselves be subservient to the whims of the Latino majority that considers southwest United States as part of Mexico. It is THEY that will one day be calling the shots (so they will tell you). For the record: American taxpayers are subsidizing the 25% of illegal alien gangbangers languishing in our jails, getting 3 squares a day plus basketball and MTV. These are criminals, non-Americans, that have raped, robbed, and victimized our communities, often the Black communities.

With this in mind, considering also the ethno-cleansing attitude of these racists toward Blacks and their contentious attitude in competing with them for services, schools, hospitals, housing, Title 8, Title 9, etc., we can get a better picture of the G.P. (general population in prison) and what's behind the headlines.

This is not "Brown vs. Board of Education" here. This is a battle between two peoples, one American, the other aliens, where US citizens are trying to claim their just dues. And the outcome of this conflict will determine the very nature of our society.
